STORE ROBBERS AGAIN BUSY IN NIGHT RAZDS

Headquarters Search For Perpetrators of Three Week-end Burglaries

Store at Oak Bay Junction
and Denman Street Entered
By Prowlers

Mysterious store thefts and housebreakings, which periodically
demand the attention of the Victoria police, are again reported in various sections of the city.

Police headquarters to-day admitted that two store robberies occurred Saturday night and another on Sunday.

On Saturday night a store at Oak Bay Junction, owned by Mr. Benson, of 1228 Oscar Street, was entered and robbed of about $30 in cash and stock.

On the same night, between the hours of 8:15 and 11:30 o'clock, the store of W. F. Hamilton at 1269 Denman Street, was entered and a small amount of money taken, as well as some rings with sentimental value,
and a purse full of old coins. The proprietor of this store related the circumstances of the robbery as far as he knew them.

Prowlers had discovered a key to the side door of the store by luck when they were climbing up to the roof to effect an entry. They then entered the establishment and proceeded to loot the place. Fortunately there was little money to be found. The proprietor had most of it with him. The housebreakers made away with about $5.

The following day, Sunday, the home of a Mrs. Dunklin was entered on Niagara Street, a suitcase cut open and a search for valuables conducted. It is not believed that anything was stolen
from this dwelling.

Police have been investigating the series of robberies, but thus far have reported no progress in their search for the law-breakers.

CHARLES WEILER CALLED BY DEATH

Member of Pioneer Business
Family Succumbed To-day

Charles Weiler, member of one of Victoria's oldest pioneer families,
and prominent business man until
his retirement a few years ago,
passed away this morning after a long illness at the family residence, 757 Transit Road, aged 70 years.

Mr. Weiler was a son of the late John Weiler, one of the founders of the Well Known firm of Weiler Furniture Company Limited. John Weiler came to California in 1850, lured by the stories of fortunes to be found in the goldfields of the South. But after a short time he found that conditions there were not altogether as he desired, the lawlessness of the district being aggravated by the exploits of the notorious Mexican bandit, Joaquin Murietta.

So Mr. Weiler decided to come north,
attracted by the news of the discovery
of gold in the Cariboo, and he arrived here in 1861. At that time his son, Charles, was four years old, the other sons being George, who passed away a few years ago, and Otto, who is to-day
head of the business. The family firm
of Weiler was started in the Cariboo,
and in 1862 joined the upholstery business
which has been started by L. Stember in 1836, the new firm becoming known as Stember and Weiler. After four or five years, Mr. Stember retired, leaving Mr. Weiler as the head of the successful enterprise which was later taken over by his son, George, and he arrived in the city of Victoria. The funeral will be held from the B.C. Funeral Chapel
on Thursday at 2 p.m. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

The late Mr. Weiler is survived by his widow, brother, Otto, one nephew and two nieces. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias. The funeral will be held from the B.C. Funeral Chapel
on Thursday at 2 p.m. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

mission is planned for this week, when the by-law list, expected to total between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000, will be drawn up.

The aldermen whose terms expire
this year are Aldermen S. W. Dean,

Quebec Legislature Session
Quebec, Oct. 25.—The Quebec Legislature is called to meet January 10.
A proclamation was issued to-day by the Lieutenant-Governor.

NOW A VISITOR ON COAST OF B.C.; SIR DONALD MANN

That a route west to the Portland Canal is the proper one to choose for a Pacific Ocean railway outlet for the Peace River district is the opinion of Sir Donald Mann, who with Sir William Mackenzie built the Canadian Northern, now part of the Canadian Na-

OAK BAY TORIES PLAN CLOSURE ON W. J. BOWSER

Kamloops Valedictory Address of Old Leader Is Re-
read at Meeting Here

Oak Bay Conservatives last night
banned W. J. Bowser, Conservative leader emeritus, a job by almost unanimously passing at their association's annual meeting a resolution aimed to shut him out of nominating convention to pick Conservative candidates for the next provincial election.

Mr. Bowser's valedictory address
at Kamloops was read with solemnity before the gathering by Gordon Cameron, president.

Joshua Hinchliffe, Reginald Hayward
and Gus Lyons were on the platform. Despard, Twigg and S. P. Toimie, new Conservative leader, sent regrets
by letter that they could not be present.

After the resolution had been passed, R. A. Wootton, second vice-president of the Central Conservative Association, and one of the two who voted against the Bowser closure proposal last night, arose and protested
at such a meeting coming out to coerce any person against becoming a candidate at the nominating convention.

WANTS BOWSER STATEMENT
The resolution was moved by Herbert Carmichael and seconded by Harold F. Hewlett, as follows:

"Be it resolved that we, the Oak Bay Conservatives, deplore and regret that reports, rumors and propaganda
have been circulated throughout the Province representing that there is a widespread division within the party
in Victoria and locality, all of which is causing considerable harm to the party;

"We therefore would urge, in order to avoid any further misunderstanding
or misrepresentation, that the Hon.
W. J. Bowser reiterate his valedictory speech made at the Conservative convention at Kamloops, and that in order to make the situation perfectly clear
he should publicly announce that he has no intention and will not seek
or accept nomination at the forthcoming election, and also in our opinion
he should personally request his admirers to loyally support the leadership of Dr. Toimie, both in words and deeds."

Trip of Dirigible To Ottawa Brings Up Difficulties

Washington, Oct. 25.—There is a possibility that the proposed trip
of the United States navy dirigible
12-A to Seattle may be cancelled.
The difficulty of mooring the great craft on the ground has made necessary stringent regulations as to the character of fields to which the dirigible is permitted to go.

The Canadian press learns that it is by no means certain a dirigible landing field can be found near Ottawa.

IN YEAR 170,000 ALIENS WERE SMUGGLED INTO THE U.S.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Immigration
officials are deeply concerned over the growth of the smuggling of aliens into the United States. The immigration patrols caught 19,000 aliens along the Canadian and Mexican borders and in Florida in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1927, but that number was only a part of the total who escaped detection.

Some officials believe the aggregate
last year was as high as 170,000 aliens,
who were smuggled across the border
and are still at large.

While there is no evidence of the existence of a central ring of alien smugglers like that often referred to in liquor smuggling cases, immigration officials are confident there are several systems of shipping aliens into the United States.

The situation promises to attract the attention of Congress at its next session.

ROUMANIA IS NOW UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Government Declares Plot to Bring Prince Carol to Throne
Unearthed

State Buildings Are Occupied
By Troops to Prevent Sudden Attacks

London, Oct. 25.—The correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph at Vienna says the Roumanian Government has ordered troops to occupy all state buildings.

Bucharest, Roumania, Oct. 25.— Martial law has been declared
throughout Roumania as the result of the Government's discovery of a plot to bring about the return of former Crown Prince Carol, who renounced his rights to the throne.

The Government is declared to be master of the situation, which was revealed as the nation was celebrating the sixth birthday of King
Michael, who was made monarch
because of Carol's renunciation.

Premier Bratiano will ask all the Opposition and Government parties on Thursday to declare their attitudes in face of Carol's aspirations.

The plot was discovered in letters in the possession of M. Manolescu,
Under-Secretary of Finance in the late Averescu Cabinet, who was arrested
yesterday and is now in the Jilava military prison.

In the letters, addressed to Opposition leaders, Carol demands a referendum be held throughout Roumania to learn the will of the people in regard to his return as King.

GOVERNMENT STATEMENT
The Cabinet, after meeting last night, issued the following statement:
"Repulse which has appeared in foreign newspapers regarding a Carolist movement in Roumania are without foundation. The truth is that former Crown Prince Carol attempted to send an invitation to the heads of the various parties, including the Premier, with the object of inducing the Roumanian
people to give up their decision on the question of his recall to the throne."

"Since such an act was a direct attack on constitutional order and the safety of the state, Manolescu, the agent through whom the letters were sent, has been arrested and brought before the court."

"The Government is firmly determined to preserve national order and it will take all necessary measures to

PROGRESS MADE AT RADIO CONFERENCE

Sub-committee at International Gathering Agrees on Allocation of Wave Lengths

Washington, Oct. 25.—At the International Radio Conference here, proposals, backed by the United States,
for the allocation of wave lengths to the various radio services were approved to-day by a technical subcommittee.

The approved proposals, the outcome
of previous consultations between the Canadian, British, Japanese, United States, French and Italian delegates, would allocate to broadcasting the wave lengths between 1,550 and 1,875
metres and between 230 and 545 metres. All other frequencies between 200 and 3,000 metres would be reserved for ship and air port communication.

BOWSER SILENT ON OAK BAY'S DEMAND FOR ANNOUNCEMENT

"I have nothing to say," was the brief reply of W. J. Bowser, K.C., former Conservative Party leader,
when he was asked to-day for an announcement of the Oak Bay Conservative Association, urging him to declare that he was out of politics
for good. The old party chief refused flatly to add anything to this guarded answer and reiterated,
when pressed for some indication
of his plans, that he had absolutely nothing to say. Mr. Bowser's silence on all political matters has been maintained consistently since he resigned from the Conservative leadership in Kamloops a year ago.

Friends of Mr. Bowser insist that he will be a candidate for the Legislature at the next election, probably in Victoria, and are preparing to support his nomination at the Conservative convention here. Mr.
Bowser has never indicated, however, whether he was favorable to such a plan or not.

RECORD CROWD FOR LIBERAL MEET WEDNESDAY

Final plans were completed to-day
by Charles J. V. Spratt, president, and Charles R. Bishop, secretary,
for the annual meeting of the Victoria Liberal Association which is to be held at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the Sons of Canada Hall, Blanchard and View Streets. A record crowd is expected.

After short addresses by four Cabinet Ministers and the election of officers for the coming year, a full orchestra will strike up and there will be three hours of dancing.

Busy Programme For Winter Months Outlined by Executive

Names to be submitted to a membership meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce as candidates for aldermen in the December civic contest will be presented to the general
meeting set for Thursday, November 3,
the executive decided at a meeting held last night under the chairmanship of Archibald Muir.

Business before the meeting showed the Junior Chamber is bristling with activity which will keep the members
busily employed during the winter months dealing with provincial and civic affairs and arranging a business educational programme that should help members.

Three new applications for membership were before the meeting. They were from Wilfred S. Harrison, Motor Transport Limited, S. L. Wilson, City
Writing Inspector, and Fred Hooton,
United Clear Store.

W. H. M. Haidane was named chairman of the debating section which will secure speakers to lead the effective speaking group. It was reported that the prospects for the establishment of the Salt Spring Island ferry were bright. Private interests were active,
and again the Junior chamber went on record as prepared to give every assistance possible for the establishment of this service.

Three Indians Are Before Jury

Accused at Nanaimo Hearing
of Having Murdered E. A.
Leach on West Coast

Nanaimo, Oct. 25.—The assize court
here this morning, after being in session but a few minutes, adjourned until this afternoon in order that an interpreter might be brought from Alberni.

When court opened Walter Watts of Alberni was sworn in as interpreter in the case of Edward Joe, Semen David and Jacob George, three West Coast
Indians charged with having murdered
Edward Leach, a fisheries officer, on or about August 29 last. It was stated the interpreter's hearing was defective and on this account Mr. Justice Morrison adjourned court until such time as a proficient interpreter
could be secured.

The petit jury empanelled to hear
the evidence in the case is George S.
Pearson, foreman, George Rosewell, John
Langham, Alex Atkin, J. D. Good,
George Johnson Jr., Joseph Kneen, R.
Colough, George Frost, Gerald Berry,
P. A. Botley and Sydney Clark.

H. A. Maclean, K.C. of Victoria is prosecutor and V. S. Harrison is defending the accused, who pleaded not guilty.

NEW PARK PLAN IN FEDERAL CAPITAL

Reported Parliament Will Be Asked to Provide For Expropriation of Property

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—The Ottawa Journal, in its news columns this morning,
said:

"Parliament will meet early in 1928
and it is more than likely the Government will ask for an appropriation of approximately $1,000,000 for the expropriation of the Russell House block,
according to well-informed sources on Parliament Hill."

"Certain criticisms about the millions spent in beautifying the capital
have not disturbed members of the Government, who feel Ottawa as the national capital should be worthy of the Dominion."

Present plans of the Federal District Commission for the beautifying of the national capital call for the demolition of groups of buildings standing at the northeast approach to the Parliament Buildings and the laying out of a central park in their stead.

The Russell House block, formerly a leading hotel of the city, is one of this group of buildings.

AGREEMENT ON NEW FLAG DESIGN MADE BY PARTIES IN SOUTH AFRICAN UNION

Compromise Ends Controversy; Union Jack to Fly Over
Ships, Docks and Government Buildings; Domestic
Flag to Be Flown Is One Designed by Hon. T. Roos, Minister of Justice

Capetown, S.A., Oct. 25.—It was announced here this evening that complete agreement on all points
requiring adjustment in connection with the South African flag question had been reached.

Thus the controversy over the flag
question, which raged more than a year and threatened to cause a political upheaval, has been brought to a settlement by a compromise between the Government forces, led by Premier Hertzog, who wanted a national flag,
and the followers of General Jan Christian Smuts, former Premier, who stood for the Union Jack.

It is understood the basis of the agreement provides that the Union Jack will be regarded as the official
flag of the Union to be flown on ships,
docks, in capitals and on Government buildings.

The domestic flag, designed by T.
Roos, Minister of Justice in the Hertzog Nationalist Government, will remain as at present, namely, three horizontal stripes, orange, white and blue,
with the Union Jack and Transvaal Vierkleur horizontally in the white stripes and the Orange Free State flag between the stripes. The Union Jack one-twenty-seventh of the area of the new flag.

The bill providing for a new national flag for the Union of South Africa was first introduced in the House by the Hertzog Government in 1925, but it aroused such a storm of opposition
because the design did not contain the Union Jack that the Government withdrew the bill and promised to reintroduce it at a later session.

After considerable controversy the flag bill was given second reading by the Assembly on June 2 last by a vote of 69 to 54. The bill provided for a flag consisting of the Cross of St.
George and a green background. There was no Union Jack in it, but the bill provided that the Union Jack should be flown on holidays and certain special occasions, and if the total number of votes given in favor of the provisions of the bill exceeded the number given against them, the Governor-General
might, by proclamation in the Gazette,
fix the date on which the provisions
should come into operation.

The special committee submitted
a design for a flag which would include the Union Jack, but as the Union Jack would occupy only one-sixteenth part of the flag this design
was more unpopular with the British element in South Africa than the original design.

Another committee wrestled with the problem without agreeing on a design
for the flag and the Government submitted a new design, which consisted of broad horizontal orange, white and blue stripes, with a shield in the centre and the Union Jack in the top left corner, the Orange Free State Vierkleur in the top right corner, the Transvaal Vierkleur in the left bottom corner and four stars representing the four South African provinces
in the right bottom corner.

State Engineer Freed From Jail

S. J. Humes Spent Days in Prison During Washington
State Dispute

Olympia, Wash., Oct. 25.—Samuel J.
Humes, Washington State highway engineer, is a free man again. The minute bonds of $10,000, which were required for his release from the Washington State Penitentiary, were forwarded to the State Highway Commission by Auditor C. W. Clausen this morning by Director of Efficiency Gardner at a highway
committee meeting.

Gardner received a written receipt in return. Shortly after the delivery of the six bulky volumes, Attorney-General
Dunbar, accompanied by G. H. Davis, supervisor of the inheritance division
of the efficiency department, went to the Thurston County jail and at the direction of the Supreme Court told Sheriff Havens to free Humes.

He had been in jail for about a week,
following the auditor's failure to have the bonds handed over.

Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald this

in a position to be tried, and the jury,
after hearing the testimony of Dr. A.
L. Crease, superintendent of the Essential Mental Hospital, and of Dr.
J. G. Mackay of New Westminster, also a mental specialist, found Morphet was insane.

On application of A. M. Johnson,

dered to be retained in custody at the pleasure of the Lieutenant-Governor.

RAIL TRANSPORTATION OF GRAIN ON PRAIRIES NOW SETTING UP NEW RECORDS

Winnipeg, Oct. 25.—Figures meaning little to the prairies, except as a medium of comparison. It is the rush of golden grain from the fields to the elevators and thence east and west that puts life into statistics. This morning
these prove that the backbone of one of the greatest harvests the world has seen is broken. A few days of fine weather and incessant labor on the part of the farmers and railroaders have brought to the Canadian plains a situation unique in their history.

Yesterday on the Canadian Pacific lines 5,100,326 bushels of grain were marketed, 1,500,000 in excess of the greatest previous record. Loadings established a high record with 2,200 cars
moving. The previous record was 2,162
cars moved on November 16, 1915.

During the last four days a total of 13,360,627 bushels was marketed on the Canadian Pacific and 6,280 cars loaded from elevators. The previous record was a total of 80,000,740 bushels has been marketed, which, considering the late spring and bad weather since the grain
has ripened, is a magnificent showing.
Since last year's marketings up to October 24 were only 69,329,000 bushels,
little in excess of this season.

DEFENCE AT MURDER TRIAL IS INSANITY

Earle Nelson Charged With Having Killed Two Women in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Oct. 25.—Earle Nelson, arrested by Manitoba provincial police last June and charged with the murder by strangulation of Mrs. Emily Patterson and Lois Cowan—Winnipeg women, who were killed separately on each side of the city—when the assassin open here on November 1. This was disclosed to-day by the prosecution. Nelson, who was rounded up after a continent-wide search for the "gypsy-killer," has been kept in close confinement in the death cell of the provincial jail here since he was committed for trial. He will be first tried for the murder of Mrs. Patterson, a mother of two children, whose strangled remains were found under the bed in her home last June 9. If acquitted of that charge, Nelson will be immediately arraigned on the second charge. Miss Cowan's body was found under similar circumstances in a downtown boarding house June 10. Defence counsel have indicated a plea of insanity will be entered on behalf of the accused man.

DAMAGES TOTALING $3,000 AWARDED SENATOR J. BUREAU

dict and read it again to the jury. The jurors were then discharged. There will be costs against both defendants.

The case as described by the judge as one of the most unusual in character and happily one of a kind not common in the courts of Canada.

AT CAMPAIGN MEETING

The slander mentioned in the statement of claim of the plaintiff was alleged to have been uttered during a political meeting held by Milton N. Campbell, M.P., of Pelly, Sask., who was seeking re-election to the House of Commons as a Progressive in the constituency of Mackenzie. W. J. B. Smith of Invermay, Sask., was one of the chief speakers. The meeting was held in the Quill Lake Hall on the night of August 26, 1926. It was alleged by the plaintiff that Mr. Smith claimed that "we find that a Minister of the Crown did allow to be built up within the sacred precincts of the House of Commons a house of ill-fame, so that he could compromise the members and say: 'You come to us.'"

It was further alleged that Milton N. Campbell, when called upon by the audience to say something about the alleged statement, said: "Ladies and gentlemen, you may be sure that these cases Mr. Smith has mentioned to you to-night are not one-tenth of the rottenness and corruption in the House of Commons customs scandal."

The alleged remarks met with the disfavor of Robert Rodgers, a Quill Lake Liberal worker, who challenged them.

AT 10:30 THE JURORS RETURNED TO receive certain information. They wished to know the legal definition of falsely and maliciously, and, secondly, who would pay the costs of the court.

Mr. Justice Taylor stated the question of costs was not a matter for the jury's consideration. He went into detail on the subject of "falsely and maliciously."

"False means untrue," he said. "The plaintiff alleges in the statement of claim that the defendant uttered language used in the statement of claim. As I instructed you before, had the defendants decided to controvert that, it would be for the defendant to plead justification. The defendant has not done that, so it was unnecessary to bring evidence on either side of that question."

"It must be taken if you find the language was used that the words were spoken falsely."

Mr. Justice Taylor then described the meaning of "maliciously," saying it had a meaning of improperly and wrongfully.

NOT PRIVILEGED OCCASION

The bench ruled it was not necessary for the jury to consider the effect of the words in the pleadings. Falseness was not an issue, and the occasion upon which the words were said to have been used was not a privileged one.

Following the verdict, S. A. Tingley, K.C., counsel for the plaintiff, asked for two or three things filed for evidence only. Among these were the notes of Pelletier, who took down portions of Smith's speech. These notes had considerable bearing on the case. The judge said he did not hold by the court for safekeeping for the present.

ADDRESSES OF COUNSEL

Addresses of counsel were heard yesterday afternoon. G. P. Barr, K.C., counsel for Campbell, submitted to the judge that in the event of damages the defendants should be assessed separately.

Mr. Barr, addressing the jury on behalf of Mr. Campbell, said: "I propose to get to the crux of the case and ask, Did the defendant Mr. Smith make the statements? One of the outstanding facts is that these men are comparative strangers. There is nothing which took place to show any desire to vilify. It was an incident—outcropping on a public question."

NOTHING AGAINST HIM

Mr. Barr went on to say it was inconsistent and unreasonable to suppose a man would suggest Mr. Smith would say Hon. Jacques Bureau had set up a house of ill-fame in the House of Commons when he did not know the Minister and had nothing against him. "Pelletier is a stenographer," said Mr. Barr. "Rodgers swears he asked Pelletier to go and take Campbell's speech. If this were so important why did the stenographer sit on a wood pile with a stove between him, copying his notes on a piece of tin? Why did not Rodgers call Pelletier up to the platform to settle the matter?"

RUTH ELDER IS AT LISBON TO-DAY

Lisbon, Oct. 25.—Ruth Elder and George W. Haldeman, her co-pilot in the transatlantic venture of the monoplane American Girl, arrived here to-day aboard a Portuguese mail steamer from Horta, Azores. They are bound for Paris, for a brief visit.

did allow to be built up within the sacred precincts of the House of Commons a house of ill-fame. He said Smith was dealing with the record of the Government.

Mr. Tingley turned to the stenographer's work. The reporter had gone there to get what Campbell said for his friend "Bob" Rodgers.

Counsel said it was not to the discredit of the shorthand man that he did not get all Mr. Barr's test questions. He explained the difficulty of the writer's position. He was in the courtroom with all eyes on him. He was literally placed on trial. Added to that, he had been in the harvest fields for weeks. His hands were stiff.

But there was one thing Mr. Tingley wanted the jury to remember and that was that the shorthand notes Pelletier had taken were identical with those Rodgers had set down in long hand. Hon. Jacques Bureau was Minister of Customs and Excise in the King Government from December 29, 1921, till he was appointed a member of the Senate September 5, 1925.

prevent any further attempts of a similar nature."

In December, 1925, Crown Prince Carol, who had eloped with Magda Lupescu, sent a communication to his father, King Ferdinand, in which he renounced his right of ascension to the Roumanian throne and relinquished all prerogatives, even to the extent of giving up membership in the Royal Family.

ACT WAS PASSED

His resignation was accepted by King Ferdinand within twenty-four hours, and on January 4, 1926, the Chamber of Deputies passed three bills ratifying acceptance of Prince Carol's renunciation, modifying the status of the Royal Family and instituting a regency. King Ferdinand died July 20, 1927. Under the provisions of the act of January, Michael, five-year-old son of Prince Carol and Princess Helen, became king. He will begin his actual reign in October, 1930, at the age of eighteen.

REGENCY COUNCIL RULES

In the meantime, a regency, consisting of Prince Nicholas, twenty-three-year-old son of the late King Ferdinand, and the Patriarch of Roumania and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, rule the country.

Prince Carol's renunciation was preceded by a trip to England in November, 1925, when Alexandra, the British Queen Mother, died. He went there to represent his country at the funeral and since then has not returned to Roumania.

After the funeral he went to Paris and joined Madame Lupescu. He spent some weeks in Milan, Turin and Venice. Queen Marie sent a special emissary to see him at Milan in an effort to induce him to return to Roumania, but he refused.

NAME CANDIDATES AT NEXT MEETING

G. I. Warren as Publicity Commissioner and A. E. Todd as Industrial Commissioner will be asked to present cases at the general meeting for the advancement of Victoria from the tourist business standpoint and the industrial development standpoint.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The difference between partnership and limited companies will be discussed at the next meeting. With the young business members of the chamber interested in this subject, experts will be asked to give views. This is the first of a series of business problems that will be before the chamber during the Winter discussions.

Members with musical ability were invited to join the orchestra, which it has been decided to organize. The secretary, Harold Palmer, reported that good progress had been made on the newspaper which will be published by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Advertisements had come in well, and an interesting periodical that would have an appeal outside the membership of the organization was assured. No name has been selected for the journal, and it was decided to invite suggestions. A prize of a hat will go to the winner.

Newmarket Race Is Won by Farhad

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 25 (Canadian Press Cable).—Aga Khan's colt, Farhad, won the Criterion Stakes here this afternoon by three lengths from Mrs. D. Harris's Norwest, with Tettrill, owned by R. Cohen, in third place, another length behind. Five juveniles went six furlongs in the race, one of the greatest events for two-year-olds in England.

The betting was 5 to 4 against Farhad, 6 to 1 against Norwest and 2 to 1 against Tettrill. The winner is a brown colt by Phalaris-D'Amour. The race was worth $4,500.

DOORS

That Defy Wind and Weather!

Do your outside doors offer stout protection against buffeting winds, lashing hail and rain that come hand-in-hand with Winter's approach? Do the inside doors hang straight and snug... or hopelessly warped and sagging, with gaping cracks that make rooms draughty?

One way of conserving fuel, keeping your home warm and cosy, is to see that doors and windows provide proper protection, first. If not, replace them.

When you're building, protect the future of your home, by specifying doors by Lemon, Gonnason. Made from selected stock, scientifically seasoned in our new dry-kilns, varying weather conditions cannot warp or split these doors... they have stood the most exacting tests!

HOW THE CONSERVATIVES CHANGED

IT IS INTERESTING TO OBSERVE HOW the Conservative Party of Canada has changed its attitude on the question of Old Age Pensions since the Conservative majority in the Senate killed the measure in 1926. At Winnipeg the other day one of the resolutions passed pledged the Party in favor of Old Age Pensions as a purely Federal affair.

When the bill which had been passed by Parliament reached the Senate last year it was promptly attacked and defeated on the ground that it was a matter for the Provinces and not one for the Dominion to deal with. We are reminded that those who took this stand included Hon. G. Lynch Staunton, Hon. J. D. Reid, Hon. C. P. Beaubien, the latter associate chairman of the very gathering at Winnipeg which now has gone on record in favor of Old Age Pensions as a Dominion measure. All voted against the King Government's bill because they declared it was a measure entirely outside of the jurisdiction of a Dominion Parliament.

Those in British Columbia who already have drawn their pension cheques are heartily glad that Mr. Mackenzie King did not embark upon a technical wrangle as to whether legislation of this kind should be put on the statute books by a Federal or provincial Parliament. On the contrary, he set up the machinery which now enables the provinces to enter into an agreement with the Dominion Government on a fifty-fifty contributory basis.

British Columbia has set an example in this regard which very probably will be followed by the other Provinces in the near future. Such action would not have been possible, of course, if the Conservatives could have had their way. Their objection on the point of jurisdiction was merely another way of passing it up.

THE BRITISH FILM QUOTA BILL

THERE SEEMS TO BE A MISAPPREHENSION in some quarters regarding the precise provisions of the British Government's Cinematograph Films Act which was passed at the last session of the House of Commons. This measure does not, as has recently been stated, provide for a showing of a minimum of seven and one-half per cent. of British-made films "throughout the British Empire with its 450,000,000 people, a field four times as great as the United States." It merely provides that in Great Britain—the measure does not apply to Ireland at all—seven and one-half per cent. of the moving picture programmes in 1928 must provide for films produced in some part of the British Empire. That is to say, a film-producing organization in Victoria would be able to compete in that Old Country market which must furnish the quota of British films. The law has nothing to do with the rest of the Empire.

The measure is divided into four parts. On the first of this month the prohibition of blind booking went into operation. Henceforward no agreement to rent a film shall be valid unless it is registered, and a later clause provides that no film shall be registered unless it has been trade shown. Advance block booking is limited by the provision that a film must be delivered within six months of agreement. Contravention of this part of the Act entails a fine not exceeding $500. Registration is covered by a clause which sets January 1, 1928, as the date when machinery will be set up for the registration of all films. The penalty for infringement is $100 per day for every day an unregistered film is exhibited. The provision dealing with the quota of British films includes films produced within the British Empire, the quota system applying to renters and exhibitors. This is the percentage of the quota in successive calendar years:

Year	Renters Exhibitors	Year	Renters Exhibitors
1928	7%	1933	20%
1929	10%	1934	22%
1930	12%	1935	25%
1931	15%	1936	28%
1932	17%	1937	30%

Under the general heading the term British films is strictly defined, penalties are included for misrepresentation and power given to the Board of Trade to make such regulations as may be necessary. Allowance also is made for the constitution of an advisory committee, consisting of two representatives of film makers, two representatives of film renters, four representatives of film exhibitors, and three members, of whom one shall be chairman, having no pecuniary interest in any branch of the film industry.

PLAIN WORDS

ONE REMARK MADE BY MR. LLOYD George at a meeting of the League of Nations Union in London yesterday contains a very plain truth which ought to be pondered by every peace-loving citizen of the world. He said that "a League of Nations which excludes all questions that are inconvenient is a sham and a snare."

There is no suggestion that the Geneva organization answers to this description. It has done and continues to do excellent work; but unless it soon tackles some of the larger aspects of its principal task and gets definite action, its opponents will be out with their hatchets pounding what they seem to delight in calling its academic status.

Viscount Cecil considers limitation of armaments by far the most important public question of the day. Other well-known public men hold similar views. The League of Nations is the only agency which can get effective action in this regard. If it so far has not been an inconvenient question, it has been dealt with in a very gingerly fashion.

AN AMAZING RESOLUTION

WHILE THE DIFFERENCES OF VIEWS which exist among the Conservatives of Victoria, and presumably elsewhere, over the leadership of the provincial body is a matter for the organization itself to deal with, most people will regard the resolution passed by the Oak Bay Conservatives last night as a most extraordinary one.

That resolution calmly asks Mr. Bowser to issue a statement to the effect that he will take no further part in the public life of this Province, virtually that he shall agree to abdicate those rights which belong to him and to every other citizen in this particular regard.

Such a demand would be amazing if made upon anybody. It is all the more extraordinary in being made upon one who has been in the public life of British Columbia for more than thirty years, who was Attorney-General and afterwards Prime Minister, and who for eight years looked after the fortunes of his party as Leader of the Opposition. Indeed, Mr. Bowser was battling in support of his political beliefs when many of those who now demand that he shall efface himself from public life altogether were in swaddling clothes.

If such an ultimatum had been sent by a Liberal Association to any Liberal who had held so outstanding a position in the public life of the country as that Mr. Bowser has held, and who had as large a following in his own party as Mr. Bowser has in the Conservative ranks, we would have regarded it as nothing short of insulting, and, as such, a reflection upon the party as a whole.

AN ENDURANCE TEST

COLONEL LINDBERGH'S REPLY TO A question as to whether he thought his 22,350-mile tour of the United States had been a success was typical of the accomplished young aviator. He would not comment on it beyond saying that "others will have to say whether the trip was a success."

If the fact that his arrival in eighty-two cities was made on time in eighty-one instances means anything, that the Colonel survived sixty-nine dinners and delivered 147 speeches, it ought to be fairly safe to say that his aerial jaunt around his native land was an outstanding success.

Colonel Lindbergh says he has no plans for the future. "I feel," he said, "that I have won the right to drop out of the public view for awhile." He certainly has earned a rest. Little did he think when he and the "Spirit of St. Louis" set out from New York across the Atlantic last May that he soon was to be one of the most talked about young men in the world.

The demand for national organization for the utilization of Canadian coal will continue until this problem is solved—Canada should not go on spending a hundred million dollars a year for American coal when coal in great abundance can be secured in our own country.

JOTS FROM GEOGRAPHY

THE FORESTRY SERVICES of the United States and Canada have charted vast areas of beautiful forest tracts for the adventuresome tourists of the two countries. The mountains located in the forest districts of the west coast are accessible many times only by narrow trails that wind in and out of verdant sections of the forest country. Trail makers of the Forest Service perform a noteworthy service in locating the picture spots of their countries.

Canadian Questions and Answers

CANADA AS AN INSURANCE LAND

Q.—Where does Canada stand in insurance?

A.—Canada maintains her position as one of the best life insurance countries in the world. 1925 exceeded all previous years for gross new life insurance written of over $800,000,000, or an average of $2,000,000 worth a day for each day of the year. The net sum in force exceeds four billion with assets (including foreign assets of Canadian companies) of $1,100,000,000, whereas the amount in force in 1897 was only $15,000,000. Of the forty-four life insurance companies operating in Canada, twenty-eight are Canadian, seven British and colonial, and nine foreign. Net assets paid by all in 1925 was over $30,000,000. Of the new business written in 1925, ordinary life represented $612,649,353; industrial, $154,397,266; group, $40,052,416.

OAK BAY GARAGE

To the Editor.—Your correspondent Ann Chovy writing on the above subject says in part, "I have only a limited knowledge"—this is truly correct, but there is none at all; in fact, complete ignorance of the situation is evident. The enclosed cutting from the Victoria Times states that she was at one time offered a job by the King of Senegal to shoot man-eating tigers on his domain. Senegal being a place you know the West Coast of Africa. Why that nothing, the writer was once offered a job to shoot elephants in the wilds of Victoria, B.C. No doubt he would have done well, but unfortunately he did not see any.

TOURISTS

To the Editor.—One of the greatest attractions for the tourist is the view of Victoria and our beautiful gardens and flowers.

The outstanding collection in the mind of most of our visitors is Butchart's Gardens.

The enclosed cutting from a Vancouver paper shows what they are now doing in regard to bulb planting.

"PARKS BOARD WILL PLANT 100,000 BULBS IN CITY THIS SEASON"

"Tulip bulbs to the number of 100,000 are being planted by the Vancouver Parks Board gardeners for next Spring blooming. This is the largest number of bulbs ever used by the board, the increase being necessary because of the additional areas which are being beautified this year."

"The principal displays will be at Victoria Square, Stanley Park and at Thornton Park. Eleven thousand bulbs are being planted at Victoria Square. Sixty-five thousand of the tubers are new stock from Holland; the remainder are last year's bulbs."

Why should not Victoria do likewise? The bulbs are here, and all that is needed is push and energy to get the movement started.

Forty years ago Goodacre Lake was laid out in Beacon Hill Park. It is still the leading beauty spot and a monument to the foresight, vision and enterprise of the city fathers in those formative, primitive days.

Since then no important improvement has been carried out on Beacon Hill.

Supposing that in each of the forty years past a small amount of work had been carried out by the normal staff in conformity with a definite and well-laid-out scheme of improvement for the park and the Dallas Road strip, what a unique beauty spot overlooking the Olympics we would now be enjoying.

I see by the press twenty trees were planted on Saturday; why not continue the good work?

The civic nursery gardens are full to overflowing of trees and shrubs, so much so that whole lines have had to be cut down and burned.

Why not plant trees out now in many of our vacant spaces and help to further beautify the city and surroundings. If this cannot be done, why not give them away free to ratepayers who would plant them and thus let people help to enhance the appearance of the town? What a wonderful chance some of our social clubs and organizations have to keep good work of this lasting kind before the public and the press.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

all the protection the law can give him against the municipalities. This scheme if allowed would rob him of the protection the law provides.

The proposal is a good eye-opener as it shows the working of the municipal mind and exposes the utter disregard they have for the people they are supposed to serve. Court proceedings by individuals against municipalities have never been a crying evil calling for a remedy.

The Attorney-General informed me that he has no power over municipalities, nor evidently has any one else. They can commit wrong with impunity and now come a proposal to make it more difficult to keep them straight.

When clarified we find that the municipalities would like less money spent on hospitals, billboards, on mayors, aldermen, etc., and a curtailment of the rights of the citizens to appeal to the law courts against the municipalities. It is about time some hard-thinking was done, and energetic action taken to save our money and protect our rights.

"ALL AT SEA"

To the Editor.—With reference to your editorial "All at Sea" in your issue of Saturday concerning The London Times and other reproduction of an envelope addressed as follows: "The Editor, Victoria Times, Victoria, B.C. U.S.A." I beg to inform you that I once received a letter addressed to me from a well-known banking institution of Canada as follows: D. C. B. Hughes, Brighton Beach, Melbourne, Victoria, N.S.W. This letter came from Calgary and in my business relations with this bank I should have addressed them as Calgary, Alberta, B.C.

Why, Mr. Editor, you have not much cause to complain. In your Friday night's issue of The Times you print a news item from Fremantle, N.S.W., concerning fifty-four Chinese who were found unconscious in the hold of a vessel. Please allow me, dear sir, to inform you that Fremantle is not in New South Wales, but in West Australia. Then again some months ago, you published a Saturday feature of the Memoirs of Annie Oakley, famous shot of Buffalo Bill's time. In it The Times stated that she was at one time offered a job by the King of Senegal to shoot man-eating tigers on his domain. Senegal being a place you know the West Coast of Africa. Why that nothing, the writer was once offered a job to shoot elephants in the wilds of Victoria, B.C. No doubt he would have done well, but unfortunately he did not see any.

There is only one genuine "ASPIRIN" tablet. It has never been improved upon. It is identified by the safety "Bayer Cross," has been prescribed by physicians over 26 years, and proved safe by millions for

Archbishop's Letter Is Much Discussed

London, Oct. 25.—The letter of the Archbishop of Canterbury reproving the Bishop of Birmingham, who is an adherent of the theory of evolution and a foe of the doctrine of transubstantiation, is regarded as confirming the Primat's reputation as a diplomat and peacemaker. Views differ, however, as to the effect the letter will produce upon the controversy.

The general view of the latest letter is that it has poured oil on the troubled waters, but it is questioned whether it will sway the storm. According to some opinion, the Archbishop's letter shows him on the side of Bishop Barnes, and it is argued the bishop is bound to reply.

Western Trust Buying Regina Mortgage

Regina, Sask., Oct. 24.—Shareholders of the Saskatchewan Mortgage and Trust Corporation will assemble in Regina, November 1, for an extraordinary meeting when they will be asked to ratify, or otherwise, a sale of the company's assets, already approved by the directors. The Western Trust, with head-office in Winnipeg, is the prospective purchaser. All that remains to close the deal is the consent of the shareholders.

The offer of the Western Trust is to pay full value for all stock in the Saskatchewan Trust that is paid up.

CALIFORNIA-HAWAII FLIGHT IS PLANNED

Plane Carrying Crew and Young Woman is to Test
Drift Indicator

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 25.—Another California-Hawaii flight, with a woman aboard the aeroplane, is in the making. It is planned to fly there and back and to test the invention of a Berkeley man, an automatic drift indicator. The mechanism fastens to the side of the plane and records on a cylinder the route flown.

Tracey Dobson, former lieutenant in a United States army pursuit squadron, will be the head pilot. He will take a co-pilot along, he states, in addition to Miss Doris Conover, a dancing teacher of Oakland.

Miss Conover had made a study of aerial navigation and is an amateur telegraph operator. Dobson is aware of the opposition to long distance flying in "hand machines" over the ocean, but says he is confident this can be overcome by a demonstration of the plane's worthiness and proof of the thoroughness of the preparations.

GASOLINE MARGIN

He expects to fly a Mahoney monoplane powered with a Pratt-Whitney engine of 428 horse-power. It will carry 550 gallons of gasoline and will have a cruising radius of 2,950 miles or a margin of 555 miles in excess of Honolulu.

A date for the hop-off has not been fixed definitely, but it probably will be in mid-November, depending on weather conditions.

Carrying virtually every safety instrument of aerial navigation and with a double instrument board, Dobson declares the plane will be equipped in a manner to reduce the hazards to a minimum, and to remove the under-taking from the class of reckless stunt flights.

A radio receiver for reception of radio beacon signals will be taken along as an additional navigation precaution.

VANCOUVER WANTS TWO NEW PLANES

Vancouver, Oct. 25.—Formation of a light aeroplane section of the Air Force Club of British Columbia, in order to make Vancouver eligible for a grant of two aeroplanes from the Federal Government, was planned at a special meeting of directors last evening.

Major Duncan Bell-Ising, vice-president of the club, was named chairman of a special committee which will solicit financial support of prospective honorary members.

In order to be eligible for the grant, the light aeroplane section must have a landing field, hangars and funds to keep the planes in repair.

Major D. R. MacLaren announced that a temporary airport site could be obtained by leasing a field near Lansdowne Park. The area could be leveled at a small cost, he said, and a light hangar erected.

A dispatch from Ottawa yesterday said:

"Ten Moth aeroplanes have been ordered from the De Havilland Corporation of England at a cost of $50,000 by the Canadian Government, according to an announcement by the Department of National Defence. The light aeroplanes will be used for the encouragement of local flying clubs. Free planes are to be provided by the Federal Government under the conditions announced recently for the inauguration of public flying clubs throughout Canada."

Wickwire Spencer Steel Bankrupt

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 25.—In the face of an operating loss each year since 1925 the Wickwire Spencer Steel Corporation went into the hands of receivers yesterday. The corporation's liabilities are estimated to be $22,000,000 and its assets $20,000,000.

United States district Judge John R. Hazel issued the order for the receivership on an application made by the American National Bank of Commerce and Trust Company of Grand Island, with a claim of $4,644 alleged to be due for transportation of stone and ore from lake ports to the main river road plant of the corporation here. The receivership company alleged also that the company had defaulted in its payment of rentals aggregating $59,000 for its Worcester, Mass., plant, and was without cash to meet interest charges due December 1 on outstanding bonds.

Judge Hazel appointed as receivers Edward C. Bowers of New York, president of the corporation, and Charles L. Feldman, former civil service commissioner and Buffalo attorney. Bonds were fixed at $25,000 each.

Counsel for the steel-corporation admitted the contentions of the steamship company and joined in the request for an injunction to restrain creditors from pressing claims. The injunction was granted. The steel corporation was reorganized in Delaware January 3, 1925. In addition to its big plant here, which was said to be operating with a curtailed force, the corporation operates wire plants at Clinton, Spencer and Palmer, Mass., besides the one at Worcester.

SUIT OF INDIANS OF NEW YORK FAILS

Albany, N.Y., Oct. 25.—St. Regis Indians have no claim to vast tracts of land in the northern and central parts of New York State, valued at more than $200,000, the United States district court of Northern New York decided yesterday when it rejected a suit filed by the Indians. The suit was an attempt to recover lands the Indians claim as ancestral properties, acquired under the century-old treaties. The city of Syracuse is included in the tract.

The Indians, as wards of the federal government, held no right to sue in federal court, Attorney-General Albert Ottinger contended for the state.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OPENS EXHIBITS OF ARTS AND CRAFTS

Exquisite Miniatures by Royal Academy Exhibition Notable
Feature of Collection

His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor, this afternoon opened the annual exhibition of the Island Arts and Crafts Society, which is being held this year on the fifth floor of the Belmont Building, thus formally introducing to the public one of the most attractive collections ever brought together by the society.

His Honor was accompanied by Miss Mackenzie and his private secretary, A. M. D. Fairbairn, who, incidentally, is also represented in the exhibition by a number of charming watercolors and pastels, notably two or three dealing with Indian subjects. The party was received on arrival by T. S. Gore, president, and Mrs. Gore, Thomas Baird, vice-president, and J. S. McMillan, acting secretary.

After viewing the various exhibits, in which both His Honor and Miss Mackenzie displayed a very keen interest, the members of the committee in charge of the various sections were introduced to the distinguished visitors, as follows: Water colors, Miss Maud Lettice; oil paintings, Mr. R. F. Leslie and Mrs. W. F. Loveland; pastels and black and white drawings, Mrs. Lillian Sweeney; crafts section, Mrs. R. Willis; receiver, Mrs. W. B. Young; tea, Mrs. A. E. Hodgins and Mrs. J. Harper.

The gubernatorial party, with the executive committee, then adjourned to the attractively appointed tea room, where a delicious afternoon tea was served under the personal direction of Mrs. A. E. Hodgins and Mrs. Harper.

EXQUISITE MINIATURES

One of the outstanding exhibits in this year's exhibition was particularly interesting was the collection of miniatures entered by Mrs. C. R. Hodgins, wife of Colonel Hodgins of Colwood. Mrs. Hodgins, a Miss de Moncy, learned her art as a pupil of the celebrated artist Praga, late president of the Royal Society of Miniature Painters of London, and his heretofore an exhibitor at the Royal Academy. The delicacy of her work and thoroughness of her training is illustrated in her beautiful miniature of Queen Victoria, in which Her Majesty is shown during the later years of life. The lace wrap worn by the Queen is reproduced with exquisite delicacy and the textures of the skin and the treatment of the whole subject, is well worth the study of other aspirants to artistic fame.

Mrs. Hodgins has generously offered, to paint a miniature for $100, the proceeds to be handed in to Bishop Schofield's fund for returned war veterans, a cause to which she is particularly sympathetic, as she and Colonel Hodgins lost one in the Great War and their other sons were seriously wounded.

MANY YOUNG ARTISTS

Another notable feature of the exhibition is the increase in the number of entries by young artists. Miss Jean Donald has recently returned to Victoria after a year's study abroad and the progress she has made is evident in her technique and the more mature treatment of her subjects. Miss Helen Streetfield has specialized in a number of clever designs suitable for magazine covers or posters, chiefly in the medium of black and white, these including "Yvette," "Printemps" and "Persian Lily," all of which show striking originality. Miss Peggy Higgins is another young artist who has entered several pastels.

Indicative of the development of the artist from the traditional to the modernist school is the collection entered by Charles H. Scott of Vancouver, a "Twilight," which was painted by the artist several years ago, is a clever study in oils of a house veiled in shadow. Mr. Scott's more recent works, "Mountain Mist" and "Garibaldi," belongs to the very modern impressionistic school, with bold splashes of color. Another adherent to this ultra-modern school is F. H. Varley of Vancouver, whose entries include several impressionistic studies curiously lacking in perspective and of almost cubist treatment.

The exhibition is open daily to the public from 10 until 6 p.m. and will remain open up to and including Monday, October 31.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE LEADS IN USE OF VETCRAFT POPPIES

Work of Disabled Veterans
Forms Attractive Dinner
Table Decoration

Considerable stimulus to the use of poppies for table decoration during the Armistice period has been given by His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor's lead in this matter. The war veterans who are engaged in the manufacture of these poppies are much encouraged in their work by the following letter, received from Government House by C. K. Morrison, honorary secretary of the Armistice Period Committee:

"Dear Mr. Morrison:
"Herewith please find cheque to cover cost of poppies purchased the other day.

"As decorations on the dining table at the dinner on Saturday evening in honor of Mr. F. A. Pauline, Agent-General of British Columbia in London, they looked charming and were universally admired. His Honor desires me to convey his congratulations to the men of the Vetcraft and Red Cross Workshops on this artistic production.

"Yours very truly,
"(Sgd.) A. M. D. FAIRBAIRN,
"Acting Private Secretary."

Representatives of the Armistice Period Committee who are taking orders for poppies and wreaths, find that quite a number of citizens are not aware of the fact that there are eight different ex-service organizations, or branches of organizations, in Greater Victoria.

Of these eight organizations five are branches of one Dominion-wide organization, the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League.

The Armistice Period Committee is the only central committee of ex-service men in Victoria composed of representatives from all these eight bodies and working for the benefit of all ex-service men in the district irrespective of what organization they belong to or whether they belong to any.

The committee is making a special effort to increase the sale of poppies about 30 per cent in order that they may maintain the same proportionate relief as in the past.

Those present were Mrs. and Miss Fieldhouse, Miss Bennett, Miss Burnett, Mrs. and Miss Salk, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. and Miss Caldwell, Mrs. Halliday, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Warder, Mrs. Gorten, Mrs. Le Sueur, Mrs. Bridges, Mrs. Hume, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Smith.

On Saturday afternoon a very successful tea was held at the home of Mrs. Carr, 23 Government Street, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of Dickensian books and a bookshelf for the little patients at the Soldiers' Home.

Mrs. Henderson, who was the convener of the affair, had arranged a most delightful programme. Mrs. Reid and Miss Mason charmed the audience with their beautiful singing. Miss Phyllis Fawcett, A.L.C.M., and Miss Margaret Devlin, gave piano solos, which were enjoyed by all. Miss Betty Jennings and Miss Owen Fraser danced a Spanish dance in costume, which was well received, and at the request of the audience they repeated it. The Dickens book wish to thank all those who helped to make the tea such a success. Mrs. Carr for lending her house, Miss Morris for presiding at the tea table, and the young ladies who assisted in serving tea, and to the artists who so kindly gave their services.

KUMTUKS BUSY ON WINTER ACTIVITIES

Orchestra of Club Members
Among Plans Made Last Night

Preliminary steps towards the formation of a club orchestra was among the interesting business effected at last night's meeting of the Kumtuka Club, held in the new Y.W.C.A. Building. The matter was brought before the club through the medium of the suggestion box, and musical members interested in the formation of such an orchestra are requested to communicate with Miss Alma Russell.

The meeting took the form of a supper, a feature of which was the one-minute speeches given by members who were called upon without warning to discuss a given topic. These topics covered a wide range, and included gossip, coffee, ghosts, millionaires, a strenuous life and other novel subjects. Miss Mabel Cameron, the president, was in the chair.

Business discussed at the subsequent session included tentative arrangements for a recital under the joint auspices of the Schubert Club and the Kumtuka, which is to be held in the New Year. Members were also reminded to register at the City Hall before October 31, to ensure their entry in the franchise being one of the obligations of membership.

As many members as possible were asked to attend the concert of the Tiltium group of the Girl Guides. The service is to be held next Sunday at 10:30 at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields. Members were also invited to a tea at the home of Mrs. Lacey on Sunday, at which Mrs. Lacey and Mrs. MacLaren, octogenarian mothers of club members, will be the guests of honor. Miss Urwin will also be "at home" to members on Saturday afternoon, November 12.

CORNMEAL MUSH IMPROVES MILK SUPPLY

Mrs. H. B. writes:
"I have had two children neither of whom I was able to nurse. Now I am hoping to nurse my new baby and want to know what food to eat in order to have a good milk supply."

ANSWER:
The ordinary diet which keeps you well and healthy will in most cases provide the right supply of milk, if the baby is nursed regularly. There are some foods though which seem to have a beneficial effect on the breast milk and oatmeal or cornmeal gruel do this in most cases.

RELATIVES ASSUME MOTHER'S DUTY
Mrs. E. H. P.—
The sister-in-law who presumed to nurse your baby while you were absent might have been actuated by the kindest motives, but if she knew you were adverse to her doing this I think she should not have. The nursing of your baby by another person would, probably have no ill effect, in so far as the milk itself was concerned, but the nursing at an "off" hour might upset the baby.

AT THE THEATRES

"THE CHINESE PARROT"
SATURDAY POST STORY
AT CAPITOL THEATRE

A deft and skillful combination of melodrama, pathos and comedy told in scenes both colorful and thrilling make "The Chinese Parrot" which opened last night at the Capitol Theatre, one of the most entertaining photoplays of the season.

While Marian Nixon and Edmund Burns are billed as the featured players, the cast in reality is all-star and every member deserves equal credit for the success of the picture. The work of Robert Bosworth, who plays a dual role, and K. Sojin as the Chinese detective are especially good.

Where To Go To-night

Capitol—"The Chinese Parrot."
Columbia—"The Speeding Venus."
Dominion—"When a Man Loves."
Playhouse—"The Stolen Bride."
Coliseum—Vaudeville.
Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

"The Chinese Parrot" was adapted from Earl Derr Biggers' mystery novel of the same name which first appeared serially in The "Saturday Evening Post" and is now in book form. The action takes place in Honolulu, the Mojave desert and San Francisco's Chinatown and is replete with mystery from beginning to end.

The story tells of a man, killed in his youth, who amasses a great fortune in order to get revenge on the girl to have it turn to ashes in his mouth when the opportunity arrives. On the stage this week the management are offering three vaudeville attractions, which include the La Merts from Australia, in a very clever singing, whistling and piano solo specialty; Miss Merle North, mezzo soprano, in song selections; and the Iris Sisters in a delightful comedy dance offering. The Capitol comedy orchestra will also be featured with another musical programme for the picture attractions.

HUNGARIAN DIRECTS
PLAYHOUSE FILM
"THE STOLEN BRIDE"

Another prominent figure in European film circles has been brought to this continent in the person of Alexander Korda, noted Hungarian director, whose first effort, "The Stolen Bride," is now on display here at the Playhouse Theatre.

Billie Dove plays the starring role in the picture, with Lloyd Hughes, Lillian Tashman, Armand Kalis and others in support.

Korda, unlike so many other foreign directors, leans to sophisticated comedy and humor rather than the heavy drama so long associated with European films.

"The Stolen Bride" was written and produced for First National by Carey Wilson.

PRISCILLA DEAN
STARS IN NEW
COLUMBIA FILM

"The Speeding Venus," a new Metropolitan production starring Priscilla Dean, and featuring Robert Frazer and Dale Fuller, is playing at the Columbia Theatre. Miss Dean's portrayal of the heroine, a brave girl who races an automobile in the contest with the skill and daring, proved eminently artistic and pleasing to her admirers.

Robert Frazer as the inventor of a telephone operator of the new school, are adequate in their portrayals. The picture has dramatic action and there is a thrill in every scene.

VAUDEVILLE TURNS
ON COLISEUM BILL
EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD

The vaudeville at the Coliseum this week is highly entertaining and is causing much favorable comment. The first act is Madge McGowan, a pupil of Nicholas Rusanoff, who is charming the audience with her graceful dancing at each performance. Next is a dramatic sketch entitled "Moonlight and You." In the cast are Ellen Allwood, George Dufham, Beverly Fyfe and Peggy Charles. This sketch was directed by Walter Earl and the melody was composed by E. Spencer. Closing the bill is Leighton Winters, the boy soprano, who was such a hit a few months back. On the screen is "Open All Night," the new Paramount picture, which is said to be something different in the line of screen entertainment. It is filled with humor and has novel story to tell. Bill Dana, Jettie Goudal, Adolphe Menjou and Raymond Griffith are featured in the principal roles.

"The Flag Lieutenant," which was produced with the direct co-operation of the British Admiralty, is also being shown.

IN DOMINION FILM
ARTIFICIAL SUN
MAKES HIGH NOON

In Hollywood ways and means have been devised whereby the light-effects of high noon may be counterfeited for outdoor scenes. An example was the recent filming of "When a Man Loves," at the Dominion Theatre, in which John Barrymore is starred, supported by Dolores Costello, and directed by Alan Crosland.

The sequence requiring the noon-day high noon, a Parisian street during the reign of Louis XV. It was closed in by buildings on the north, south and east, and an arch spanned the way so that the sun hit the spot desired only a few hours a day.

To recreate daylight, eight powerful sun-arcs like huge searchlights, several big spotlights and a half a dozen broads were concentrated on a space not more than forty feet square. The twenty-two million candle-power of artificial light gave perfectly the illusion of noonday.

LONDON'S ALADDIN
COMING TO ROYAL

Famous Pantomime With English Principals Booked
For Victoria

Those who recall the pantomimes of their early days will be interested to learn that a real pantomime, thoroughly up to date, yet distinguished by all the old-time characteristics, that made English pantomime a unique entertainment the world over, will be presented at the Royal Theatre for four days, commencing Wednesday, November 2. "Aladdin" is coming direct from London, with the original principals and the original production. It depicts the age-old legend of the wonderful lamp. Dave Lee, the leading comedian, who will portray the Widow Twankey, is famous throughout the British Isles for such roles, having played them in all the leading pantomimes in all the prominent centres for years. He has just completed an extensive tour of Australia and South Africa, and in the latter country he played Mother Goose in a pantomime of that name. This will be his first visit to Canada.

Miss Lillian Barnes, who will play Pekoo, is known as a pantomime "boy" everywhere in England, and has also played successfully in the same type of entertainment in Australia. She has a fine stage presence and a splendid contralto voice. She has appeared in

There will be a special English ballet under the direction of Miss Phyllis Retford, sister of Ella Retford, the well-known vaudeville comedienne and dancer. Miss Retford is herself an authority on stage dancing of all kinds. Dancing and singing will be outstanding features of "Aladdin," as well as spectacular effects and real pantomime comedy. In all, there are eleven scenes with many changes in costumes and some brilliant color effects.

AGENT-GENERAL FAVORS TEXTILES

Project of John Moore on Worsted Openings is Sound,
Says Hon. F. A. Pauline

Unqualified support of the proposal to establish a branch of the textile trade in Victoria by John Moore, Bradford, England, mill operator and associate, was given in an address by Hon. F. A. Pauline, B.C. Agent-General in London, to the City Council last night. Mr. Pauline said he had been in touch with the negotiations from the start, and was confident that the worsted industry, if started here under these auspices, would be a great success.

Touching on the question of city aid for the projected industry the Agent-General explained that the removal of Mr. Moore's plant from Bradford meant a lessening of employment for 100 persons there, and in those circumstances, Mr. Moore could not expect financial aid from Britain. Such a mill as proposed, he said, would employ 100 operatives, and furnish employment in this city for that number of people who otherwise would have to go elsewhere.

Mr. Moore had successfully started two other plants, and proposed to superintend and train the personnel in this case, as well as invest $40,000 of his own money in the project. No industrial enterprise was without risk, continued the Agent-General, but the worsted mill project appeared to have every assurance of profitable operation, sufficient to cover all charges and leave a handsome surplus of profit. The original market had been found on closer investigation twice as good as at first supposed, he stated. Mr. Pauline closed with an expression of his interest in the city's welfare, and declared he would be glad to serve Victoria in any capacity that would lead to its industrial growth while B.C. Agent-General in London. The council passed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Pauline on his assistance in the present instance. No action was taken on the mill project as the question is still in the committee stage.

A POEM

Stepped in the rosy glow of dawn
The glory of a new-born day.
The fresh-faced youth of all the land
Went merrily away.

They heard the trumpet-call of hope,
They sought a nook of fame;
Tall men and sturdy joined the ranks;
Small men and puny came.

"O! Whither goes this gallant host?"
A tender maiden cried;
"They go to join the Press Club dance"
A colored man replied.

LIMITED CUT IS ADVISED

Provincial Water Board Agree
With City Water Commissioner as to Sooko

Advised by the City Water Commissioner and similarly by members of the Provincial Water Board that limited cutting of merchantable timber at Sooko Lake would be beneficial, the City Council last night placed the question of what policy will be pursued eventually under consideration again, for the examination of the new data.

J. E. Lane and J. C. MacDonald of the Provincial Water Board, which was asked for its advice on the matter, confirmed F. M. Preston, City Water Commissioner. They pointed to the fact that the Sooko watershed is unusually large and free from considerations that might affect smaller sheds. Logging under proper health regulations and with the minimum risk from fire would be beneficial, it was thought. The first danger would increase for the first few years, but reduce materially when the new growth was coming along. Seed trees should be reserved, it was also urged.

Mr. Preston wrote the council practically to the same effect, giving a list of seventeen authorities on watershed questions. A chance reference to the possibility of chlorination of the water if logging were permitted on an extensive scale drew from the war service members of the council shudders of remembrance. "Pierce," said Alderman H. C. Holmes, both asking if the chlorination was intended in earnest or as a grim jest. Mr. Preston said he had meant it. If logging were permitted promiscuously at the watershed sterilization of the water for domestic purposes would be necessary. In the light of the new data to hand the council tabled the question, further inclined to this course by the absence of Alderman E. S. Woodward, former chairman of the water committee, who could not attend last night. A preliminary survey of the watershed is being asked for by Mr. Preston to uncover data required for a more detailed recommendation of what is the best course to pursue.

FALSE VALLEY REPORT

Prince Rupert, Oct. 25.—According to reports sent out to verify the report of government airman about a valley from Wark Canal which would serve as a Prince Rupert-Terrace road route, turned back after going fifteen miles from the head of Kitsum Lake. They were assured by Indians who have spent their lives in the region that no such valley existed.

Rennies Must Win To-morrow to Hold Undisputed Lead

Will Clash With Hudson's Bay at Royal Athletic; Tillicums to Meet Garrison

Interest Saturday Will Focus on City-Esquamalt Game; Thistles Meet Five C's

Rennie & Taylors, present undisputed leaders of the Wednesday Football League, must win their match to-morrow with the Hudson's Bay to keep their present position. A defeat will mean company for them in the top berth. Last week the Bay came through with a surprise and defeated the Garrison and now are after the scalps of last year's champions.

To-morrow's matches are as follows: Hudson's Bay vs. Rennie & Taylor, Royal Athletic Park. Saanich United vs. Navy, at Beacon Hill, lower ground.

Tillicum vs. Garrison, at Beacon Hill, upper ground. All games will start promptly at 3 o'clock.

At present Rennie are leading the league by a two-point margin over the Tillicums, Hudson's Bay and Garrison. The Bakers have won all three games played while the other clubs have two victories and one defeat.

THE HUSKIES STRENGTHENED The Hudson's Bay-Rennie match could be a real good one, as both sides will field strong line-ups. The Huskies have strengthened their team considerably since the beginning of the season and are now in a position to challenge the remaining teams a good game.

At the present time, the same team that won the championship last year are quite confident of winning again this season.

The Upper Beacon Hill grounds will be the scene of the Rennie-Hudson's Bay match. The game will be a real good one, as both sides will field strong line-ups.

WILL BE USED AS MEANS OF REVENGE

MICKEY WALKER

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Jack Kearns, who has pestered Jack Dempsey, his former pal, through the courts for years, claiming his managerial percentage, now talks of seeking revenge in the ring.

Kearns, plan is to groom Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, for the heavier ranks, as weight adds itself to Mickey's figure. Walker, Kearns said, is about ready for the light heavyweight now, and will be able to mix with the biggest boys before long. When that time comes, Kearns hopes Dempsey may be one of those in Walker's path.

Walker meets McGuire here November 1.

Players' Status Now Before Olympic Heads

Canadian Olympic Committee Asks Olympic Committee for Ruling on Four New Westminster Players, Who Were Formerly Pros; Royal City Wants to Send Them With Team to Amsterdam to Play in Exhibition Games at Olympiad

Toronto, Oct. 25.—In reference to the recommendation by the British Columbia branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada to the Canadian Olympic Committee that the New Westminster lacrosse team, Canadian champions, be sent intact to the Olympic games at Amsterdam next summer, it is pointed out here that the Canadian Olympic Committee has already taken up the matter by getting in touch with the International Olympic committee in an effort to secure a ruling on the eligibility of the four doubtful players of the New Westminster club.

P. J. Mulqueen, president of the Canadian Olympic Committee has sent a message to the president of the International Olympic committee in which he asks if it will be possible "for Canada to use four re-stated players, who are now eligible for competition in Canada, but who were previously professionalized for accepting excessive expense money."

At the annual meeting of the B.C.A.A.U. held in Vancouver on Saturday, Alex. Courtney, of New Westminster, told of his recent conversation with J. H. Crocker, chairman of the executive council of the Canadian Olympic Committee, in which the latter intimated that the pros. would not be allowed to go as members of the team.

Tennant questioned the right of Crocker to express such an opinion. He thought that the pros. should be allowed to go inasmuch as it would be only an exhibition for educational purposes. Mr. Tennant, speaking as vice-president of the Dominion A.A.U., suggested that letters be sent to the Olympic committee and the C.A.A.U. stating that the inclusion of the pros. was favored by the B.C. branch. This was carried after Mr. Tennant had stated that he felt sure the B.C. Government would "come through handsomely" were the Dominion champion team to go to Amsterdam as a unit.

Victor Spencer and J. H. Roaf of Vancouver, A. E. Allison of Trail and one to be named from Victoria are to be asked to take in hand the raising of funds to help the Olympic committee in sending the lacrosse team, the cost of which will be around $1,500.

American Hockey to Open Nov. 18 and Run Until End of March

St. Paul, Oct. 25.—The championship season of the American Hockey Association will open November 18 and close March 22. The schedule committee announced the schedule of forty games has been arranged for each of the five teams, Kansas City, Duluth, Winnipeg, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

North Berge, N.J., Oct. 25.—Battling Levinsky, former light-heavyweight champion of the world, knocked out Ted Jackson, negro champion of Ohio, in the fourth round of a ten-round bout here last night. Levinsky weighed 185 and Jackson 177.

Former Bootblack Is Ready to Shine Featherweight Crown

Tony Canzoneri Carries Poor Old Johnny Dundee For Fifteen Rounds

Italian Enhances His Claim to Championship; Fans Walk Out Disgusted

New York, Oct. 25.—A former New Orleans bootblack, Tony Canzoneri, has enhanced his claim to the featherweight championship of the world by a fifteen-round decision over Johnny Dundee, the former champion, but the manner of his latest conquest leaves much to be desired.

Canzoneri plainly carried the veteran over the limit last night at Madison Square Garden, but there was not a damaging punch landed. Canzoneri, while giving the old master a boxing lesson, showed that he is unversed in the art of pulling his punches and making them count. A crowd of approximately 10,000 began calling for action in the fourth round. Many of the spectators left the garden at the end of the seventh round.

As the New York Athletic Commission did not recognize the contest as involving the featherweight championship, it is problematical whether the body will call a hearing to consider the suspension of one or both the principals.

NOTHING SOLID Dundee, making his first appearance in the ring in more than a year, did not land a solid punch during the contest. Canzoneri made no effort to punish his man.

A short left split Canzoneri's lip in the eleventh, and Dundee was out on the right check in return. This flurry was soon over, however, and the men went back to their exhibition tactics. Boos drowned out the announcement of the verdict.

The total paid attendance was 8,808 and net receipts were $34,457. Lew Perfetti, New York featherweight, won the decision over Vic Burro, also of New York in an eight-round semi-final. Perfetti weighed 124, Burro 122½.

Benny Schwartz of Baltimore, gained a decision over Johnny Erickson, New York, in an eight rounder. Each weighed 117.

Harry Brandin of Brooklyn, 118½, outpointed Frisco Grande, of the Philippines, 116, in a four rounder.

Andy Martin of Boston, won by decision from Henry de Wanker, in eight rounds. Martin weighed 125; de Wanker 123½.

Hot Fight Expected When Baker Tackles Jim Duffy To-night

New York, Oct. 25.—Sammy Baker, rough, tough welterweight of New York, and Jimmy Duffy, probably the cleverest boxer ever developed in Oakland, clash here to-night in a ten-round bout that may lead one or the other to a crack at the 147-pound title.

The pair will meet at the San Francisco baseball park in the first open air fight here of the 1927 season. Baker is a strong favorite in the betting.

Promoter Ancil Hoffman said he would attempt to match the winner of to-night's battle with the winner of the Joe Dundee-Ace Hudkins championship bout at Los Angeles next Saturday.

"Speedy" Dado, former flyweight champion of the Orient, will meet Benny Marks, Los Angeles, in another ten-rounder. The top preliminary finds "Dynamite" Murphy, Sacramento featherweight, meeting Angel De La Cruz, Manila.

WINNIPEG SWIMMER Moguls in American Loop Pull For Yanks To Vindicate Them

Fans and National Leaguers Thought Yanks 'Ordinary Team and Others Poor

World's Series Proves Huggins Had Super-team Under His Control

By BILLY EVANS The rival major leagues are keen for winning the world series. The magnates seem to think that the title of world champions adds much to the prestige of the victorious league.

That may or may not be true. I have always been of the opinion that the fans, while much interested in the series as an outstanding sports event, soon forget all about the winner.

In other words, I have always had my doubts as to whether or not it meant a great deal at the gate for a league to boast the world champions. It is an interesting thing to have a colorful star like Ruth as a magnet to pack them in.

Yet, I can see why the American League magnates were more than anxious that the New York Yankees beat the Pittsburgh Pirates.

WAS CLASS OF LEAGUE New York, champions of the American League almost from the start of the season, had outclassed the rest of the field since July 4. It was merely who else would finish in the first division to trail the Yankees.

In capturing the American League pennant, New York set a new record for victories in the organization by winning 110 ball games. Only once during the season was the club shut out. Never did it lose more than four games in a row.

Washington, Philadelphia and Detroit are mighty good ball clubs. Chicago wasn't a bad ball club, and Cleveland were fair and Boston promising. However, the Yanks distanced the other seven.

Most American League managers expressed the belief that New York should be in a league all by itself. In some quarters this was taken as an alibi.

CRITICS BELITTLED YANKS The experts in doping the world series outcome in the 1927 classic, particularly those who had a leaning toward the National League, rather discounted the strength of the Yankees on the theory that the rest of the league was below standard.

"New York is a good club, but not a super-club, as the records would make one believe. Its great showing has been made possible by the weakness of the other clubs."

That was the consensus of the critics, who favored the chances of the Pirates to beat the Yankees and sought a reason to explain their belief.

The opinion generally held was that the Pirates had won a pennant in a league that was far better balanced than the American.

WAS TRIBUTE TO GAME Such a condition explains why the American League magnates probably pulled harder for a victory this year than at any time since the world series was inaugurated.

If Pittsburgh should outclass the Yankees in the world series, decide it in four or five games, it would make the American League look like a minor organization. It would make all the complimentary things said about the Yankees sound like mere piffle.

That New York should trounce the Pirates in four straight games bears out the contention of the American League managers that New York is a super team and should play in a league by its lonesome.

"I am sure the seven other managers in the National League, aside from Donie Bush, can now appreciate what we are up against in playing the Yankees all summer. Those babies are sure tough," was the way George Moriarty, manager of the Detroit Tigers, put it.

Not only was four straight wins by the Yankees a vindication of the opinion American League managers had of the club, but also a great tribute to the honesty of the game.

Diegel the Winner

Washington, D.C., Oct. 25.—Leo Diegel of Fenimore, N.Y., retained his middle Atlantic open golf championship by defeating P. McLeod, Columbia County Club pro here, by one stroke in an eighteen-hole playoff of their tie at Saturday. Diegel's card was 37, 88-75, and McLeod's 38, 40-78.

Diegel's winning margin would have been two strokes had he not apparently purposely dubbed a short putt on the eighteenth green. McLeod failed to keep the single-stroke lead he held at the end of his first nine.

McNamara in Lead

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Reggie McNamara, the "iron man" of the six-day bicycle riders, and Cecil Walker, the all-round champion of America, took the lead in the six-day race here last night, one lap ahead of the second place team of Otto Petri, Germany, and Norman Hill of California. Heading the third division, two laps back of the leaders, are Tony Beckman and Charley Wister, and Franco Georgetti, and Bobby Walhouse Jr.

Seventeen laps were gained during the night's jams. Mayor William Hale Thompson was among those offering $5,000 for a one-day sprint, and McNamara carried off the money prize.

HORSE RACING

New York, Oct. 25.—Crusader galloped home with the Somerset Handicap yesterday at Laurel, although he finished in the second in the running.

Californa was second and Princess Doreen third. Mars was disqualified for fouling Crusader at the half-mile post. Jockey Earl Sande had to take Crusader up after the interference, but he came strong to run second. The time for the mile and one-eighth was 1:51 4-5.

Gamble, under Jockey Mack Garner's superb ride, won the Fear Naught handicap at Empire City. Gamble had a four-lengths lead around the turn, and, although trailing in the stretch, lasted to win by half a length from Cloudland. Cherry Pie, heavily played, was a poor third. The race was worth $1.175 and the mile and seventy yards was run in 1:45 3-5.

The Norwood purse, feature at Latonia, went to Rinnock, which beat out Florian by a neck. The Le Mar Farm's Cannon was third. The time for the mile was 1:42 1-5.

Hot Time captured the fourth race at Arlington, six furlongs for three-year-olds and up. Riva was second and Anna Marone II, third. The winner's time was 1:12 2-5.

SOLICITORS DIFFER ON GRAIN AFFAIRS

Panama Pacific Willing to Start Work on Excavation and Piling at Site

City Anxious to See Start, But Withheld by Legal Advisers

Headway was made by the City Council last night on the grain elevator situation, when it was decided to bring the solicitors for the city and the solicitors for the grain company together for a conference.

The Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited are under a necessity to start work at the site by November 9. The city is prohibiting a start on structural work in advance of the completion and signing of the contract for the completed work on approved plans. The general plans have been approved, but final construction plans will take a considerably longer time to get out and be passed upon.

The Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited are ready to remove a shed now in the way, excavate for the foundations, construct a retaining wall at the wharf to the necessary level, remove and replace the bollards, and do other work estimated to cost $16,000 at its own expense. Following the excavation the seating of 2,700 piles by the hydraulic process would take place, consuming forty-five days in itself.

The City Council is willing to permit the grain company to go ahead at its own expense, if the company waives the otherwise implied acceptance by the city of a commitment to the contract, but its legal advisers have demurred. C. D. Howe & Company, city advisers, have wired the city that the grain company could clear the site and excavate, but at its own risk.

J. A. Mooney, president of the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited and D. S. Tait, his solicitor, were present last night. Mr. Tait explained that the company would be pushed for time to complete the elevator by August next year if not allowed to start now on the preliminary work. This work would furnish winter employment for many, and would make ready for a fast start on the real construction next spring, when the final plans were prepared and approved.

The city was anxious to facilitate the company in every way, but could not ignore express advice to forbid a start at the site until the approval of all plans and the signing of the contract. Mayor J. C. Pendray, for the council, said: "A conference of solicitors might find some safe way out of the dilemma for the city, and remove objections implied consent to a start of work before the nature of the work was approved. On this note the discussion closed."

LIBRARY COSTS RAISED BY CITY

Oak Bay Move at B.C. Union Fought by Alderman William Marchant

The question of who is paying for city library facilities was brought sharply before the City Council last night by Alderman William Marchant, member of the Carnegie Library Board in this city. Oak Bay's resolution to the Union of B.C. Municipalities making property ownership synonymous with residence for library privileges opened a Pandora's box of troubles the contents of which could not yet be gauged, according to Mr. Marchant, as library facilities were based on property ownership, and not residence, why not school facilities, sewer connections, and the multitude of little and larger services that one municipality now does for another on a cost plus basis, asked Mr. Marchant. Saanich, for instance, pays some $17,000 a year for City High School tuition of its pupils. If city property ownership were qualification the city would lose that necessary contribution to its educational costs, he said. The same might be said of Esquimalt, in city hospitals, and in many other ways. The principal of citizenship was based on residence, continued Mr. Marchant, who recalled that an Oak Bay residence was once elected to the City School Board on undeniable property qualifications, but forced to resign for non-residence in the city. The Union's action was forced by rural municipalities at the expense of Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria, he concluded, giving figures for the library costs in Victoria. These showed that the cost of the city library is $23,191 a year, of which Victoria pays $19,911. Oak Bay $1,316, Esquimalt $663, and Saanich $500. On the basis of population Oak Bay should pay $1,680, said Mr. Marchant, and $1,670 on the basis of equivalently taxed assessed values. Saanich and Esquimalt were more isolated and had a better claim to reconsideration, admitted Mr. Marchant, urging city action to oppose the passage of any legislation making property ownership the key to this tapping of city service without adequate payment in kind.

ESQUIMALT WILL PAY FAIR SHARE

Laboratory Fees in Hospital Work Cost $400 a Year; Council Agreeable

Esquimalt Council last night went thoroughly into the question of laboratory charges to municipalities, and after the matter had been adjourned until such time as the medical health officer could be questioned, it was finally decided that a grant of $400 be given towards this work.

Councillor Lockley wanted to know what the council's statutory responsibility was.

"It is best that we should get on solid ground," he said, "before we decide in this matter. This is a serious thing."

Councillor Pomeroy said he recollected discussion with the solicitor and medical health officer in this very matter and he admitted that in his opinion the municipality had a responsibility to meet in paying for laboratory work. There was no legal obligation, but there was a moral one, he thought. He did wish, however, that Esquimalt municipality be billed for itself and not for Work Point Barracks and the whole electoral district.

An accounting rendered to the municipality showed that laboratory fees amounted to over $500. Councillor Heald thought this was rather a big bill. He thought $400 was a reasonable amount for a municipality of Esquimalt's size to pay.

In the event of an epidemic, isolation was necessary, said Councillor Lockley, and he pointed out that such was necessary for a municipality to know how the municipality stood by statute.

Dr. MacCallum was called upon to enter the discussion. He explained that the municipality's share of $400 was payable to those of other surrounding municipalities which paid in lump sums. This was made a flat grant over the nature of the insurance, however, he said, Dr. MacCallum, in the event of an epidemic the cost might be immense.

Dr. MacCallum said that he was satisfied that the sum of $400 which Esquimalt was being asked to pay for laboratory work, was equitable.

The council finally decided that the amount should be paid.

DELEGATE'S REPORT

A report of the delegates from the county, which attended the convention of the Good Roads League, was read. The necessity of united effort to bring good roads to all districts, and the delegates felt they had accomplished something worth while.

The delegates from the Union of B.C. Municipalities Convention told of the discussion of hospital and educational reports, fire insurance matters, and various specially interesting topics, in which Esquimalt's delegates took part.

The report was received and the committee thanked. Word of their activity had been reported in the press, it was recalled, in detail.

FRONT STREET PLAN FOR LANDS

Up-town Method of Doing Business Advocated by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar

An up-town office and up-town methods of doing business are suggested by the City Lands Department.

The plan was advanced to the City Council last night by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, one of the senior aldermen on the council and chairman of the lands committee.

Mayor J. C. Pendray commended the plan as one in line with the importance of the City Lands Department which was suffering from an out-of-the-way and obscure office now, and yet had perhaps the heaviest list of properties of all real estate offices in the city.

Opposition to the plan by licensed dealers might be anticipated, but this opposition would not be pressed when it realized that the question of city lands was one that affected everyone in the city and the promotion of better business in this way would lead generally to an improvement shared by all, it was stated.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar and his committee was instructed by the council to investigate the questions of cost and suitable premises for report back to the council at an early date.

"You can't imagine what I've suffered from dyspepsia in the last ten years," she said.

"Is that possible?" exclaimed her friend. "You look so healthy. I didn't suppose you—"

"Oh, it isn't I. It's my husband who has it," she hastened to explain.
